Theatre by the River presents
ONE GOOD MARRIAGE
by SEAN REYCRAFT
directed by JAMES FIRBY

Winnipeg Fringe Fest, July 14-25, 2010

Steph and Stewart met. They had a beautiful wedding. Then everyone died.

In One Good Marriage by Sean Reycraft (the second show in Theatre by the River's 5th season) actors Matthew TenBruggencate and Mel Marginet portray a couple marking their first year anniversary and looking back at the astonishing event that changed their lives...and their marriage.

Director's Note:

As social creatures, we spend our lives forming connections with the most idealized (and controversial) bond being marriage. But can a marriage survive when all other relationships are tragically severed?

In all these years, they've barely had even a scene together – One Good Marriage marks their co-performance debut! The play also marks the directorial debut of James Firby, previously assistant director for The Bush-Ladies (Fringe '08) and a founding member of Theatre by the River, as well as the Best Man at Mel and Matt's wedding.
